Sample Skill Marketing (MVC) Email

John,

I trust you'll find this email well.

I'm reaching out to you today as a matter of professional courtesy to make you aware of a candidate that is currently working with one of your competitors and have expressed a specific interest in leaving that group. He is being extremely selective and confidential in his search and as a result is working with me to represent him. I am attaching a "blind" version of his resume for your review if you have an interest in discussing employment opportunities within your group with this individual please feel free to contact me.

Regards,
